

IV. Research Log

(May 30–September 28, 2026)

The selected dated log entries follow this page. They record the work in the order it happened rather than as a finished account, and it deliberately preserves what went wrong: conjectures that were tested and died, claims of the author's own that were later refuted, and software bugs that produced confident wrong answers before being caught.

Entries 2–4, 6–8, 12–13, 15–28 and 30–32 are not reproduced here, so entry numbers match the full log, `zf_log.pdf`, which has all 36 entries.

It is included because a reader is entitled to see which conclusions were reached first and revised later, and because the superseded versions have been left in place rather than edited away.
